CLASSWORK-VIEWS
23.05.2025

For each of the following questions use tables EMPLOYEES, DEPARTMENTS, LOCATIONS:

1. Create a view of all the columns in the EMPLOYEES table for all the employees hired in 1999.
2. Create a view to display the first_name, the last_name and the salary.
3. Create a view based on EMPLOYEES and DEPARTMENTS tables. Select last_name, first_name, hire_date, department_id from EMPLOYEES, the department_name and the location_id from DEPARTMENTS for all the employees having department_id=50. Use department_id to create a join between employees and departments.
4. Create a view based on EMPLOYEES and DEPARTMENTS tables. Select last_name, first_name, hire_date, department_id from EMPLOYEES, the department_name and the location_id from DEPARTMENTS for all the employees who earn more than the average salary from employees having department_id=50. Use department_id to create a join between employees and departments.
5. Create a view based on EMPLOYEES and DEPARTMENTS tables. Select last_name, first_name, hire_date, department_id from EMPLOYEES, the department_name and the location_id from DEPARTMENTS for all the employees hired after Matos. Use department_id to create a join between employees and departments.
6. Create a view that contains the first_name, the last_name, and the hire_date for employees having manager_id = 124.
7. Create a view to display first_name, last_name and bonus from employees and department_name and location_id from departments.
8. Create a view to display first_name, last_name and salary from employees and department_name and location_id from departments.
9. Create a view to display street_address and the city from locations and department_name and location_id from departments. Use location_id to create a join between locations and departments.
10. Create a view to display first_name, last_name from employees, department_name, location_id from departments and the city from locations.

11. Create a view to display first_name with capital letters and last_name in one column (from table employees), the department_name, and the location_id from departments.
12. Create a view to display first_name with capital letters and last_name in one column (from table employees), the department_name, and the location_id from departments for all the employees having the same manager as Vargas. Use department_id and manager_id to create a join between employees and departments.
13. Create a view to display first_name, last_name from employees, department_name, location_id from departments and the city from locations for all the employees hired after Rajs.
14. Create a view to display first_name, last_name from employees, department_name, location_id from departments and the city from locations for all the employees who earn more than Grant.
15. Create a view that contains the first_name, the last_name, the hire_date, and the salary for employees having department_id = 50 or 80.
16. Create a view to display state_province, country_id, and the city from locations and department_name and location_id from departments for department_id=50 or 80.
17. Create a view that contains the first_name, last_name from employees the department_name, and the location_id from departments for employees having department_id = 50 or 80. Use department_id to create a join between employees and departments.
18. Create a view of all the columns in the employee's table to display the employees hired after Abel.
19. Create a view to display the first_name, the hire_date from employees, the department_name and the location_id from departments for employees hired in 1998 or 1999.
20. Create a view that contains the first_name, the last_name, the hire_date, and the salary for employees who earn more than the average salary from department_id=80.
21. Create a view of all the columns in the employee's table. Add a where clause to display the employees having job_id=ad_pres or st_clerk.

22. Create a view that contains the first_name, the last_name, the hire_date, and the salary for employees having salary higher than the average of the salary from employees having job_id=sa_rep or st_clerk.
23. Create a view that contains the first_name, the last_name, the hire_date, and the salary for employees having the same manager_id as Matos.
24. Create a view that contains the first_name, the last_name, the job_id from employees, the department_name and the location_id from departments for employees having the same job_id as Matos.
25. Create a view based on employee's table. Select the first_name, last_name, salary and the bonusfrom employees having bonus.
26. Create a view based on employee's table. Select last_name, first_name, hire_date, department_id, and employees_id. Display the employees having salary between 5000 and 8000.
27. Create a view that contains the first_name, last_name, salary, commission_pct, and bonus from employees having manager_id = 124 or 100.
28. Create a view that contains the first_name, last_name, and the salary who's last_name begins with "M" or "R".
29. Create a view to display the first_name, the last_name, and the salary for employees who earns less than the maximum salaries for all the employees having manager_id=124.
30. Create a view based on EMPLOYEES and DEPARTMENTS tables. Select last_name, first_name, hire_date, department_id from EMPLOYEES, the department_name and the location_id from DEPARTMENTS for all the employees having the same job_id as Matos or Grant. Use department_id to create a join between employees and departments.