

MODON 28.04.2025

Use tables EMPLOYEES, DEPARTMENTS and LOCATIONS for the following questions :

1. Create a view of all the columns in the departments table, where department_id = 50 or 80;
2. Create a view that contains the first_name, the last_name, and the salary for employees having department_id = 50.
3. Create a view that contains the first_name, last_name, from employees and department_name from departments.
4. Create a view of all the columns in the employees table. Add a where clause to display the employees hired after 01.01.1998.
5. Create a view of all the columns in the employees table. Add a where clause to display the employees having manager_id=124;
6. Create a view based on employee's table. Select the first_name, last_name, salary from employees having salary>8000;
7. Create a view based on employee's table. Select last_name, first_name, hire_date, department_id, employees_id. Display the employees having job_id=ad_vp;
8. Create a view that contains the first_name, last_name, salary, commission_pct, and bonus from employees table.
9. Create a view that contains the first_name, last_name, salary, commission_pct, and bonus from employees having manager_id = 124.
10. Create a view that contains the first_name, last_name, manager_id from employees and department_id and department_name from departments.
11. Create a view that contains the first_name, last_name, and the salary whose last_name begins with "K" (use Employees table).
12. Create a view to display street_address and the city from locations and department_name and location_id from departments.
13. Create a view to display state_province, country_id, and the city from locations and department_name and location_id from departments. Display the data for location_id=1700.

14. Create a view to display first_name, last_name and salary from employees and department_name and location from departments. Display the data for manager_id=124 or manager_id = 100.
15. Create a view to display first_name, last_name and bonus from employees and department_name and location_id from departments. Create a join between employees and departments using manager_id and display the data for manager_id=100.
16. Create a view to display first_name, last_name and salary from employees and department_name and location_id from departments. Create a join between employees and departments using department_id and display the data for department_id=50 or 80.
17. Create a view to display street_address and the city from locations and department_name and location_id from departments. Create a join between Employees and Departments using location_id.
18. Create a view to display state_province, country_id, and the city from locations and department_name and location_id from departments. Create a join between employees and departments using location_id and display the data for location_id=1700.
19. Create a view to display state_province, country_id, and the city from locations and department_name and location_id from departments. Display the data for location_id between 1700 and 2500.
20. Create a view to display all the information for employees having job_id=st_clerk. Order by hire_date.
21. Create a view to display the first_name, the last_name, and the salary for employees having the same job_id as Matos.
22. Create a view to display the first_name, the last_name, and the salary for employees who earns less than the maximum salaries for all the employees having manager_id=124.