

EXDON 27.01.2025

Class activity

Exercise A: For all the following questions use EMPLOYEE's table:

1. Display the last_name and the first_name with uppercase letters in one column for employees having job_id = AD_VP or ST_CLERK.
2. Display the sum of the salary for employees having department_id=50,80,90 (two methods).
3. Increase the salary of employees by 5% and display the last_name, the old salary, the new salary and the department_id for employees having department_id=50 or 80.
4. Decrease the salary of employees by 3% and display the last_name, the old salary, the new salary and the department_id for employees having department_id=50 or 80 and manager_id=124 or 149.
5. Display all the information about the employees having salary >7000.
6. Display all the information for employees having job_id=ST_CLERK and arrange in descending order according to salary.
7. Display the first_name and the last_name in uppercase in a new column „New“, and the department_id for employees having department_id=60 or 80(two methods).
8. Display the last_name, the job_id, the salary and the manager_id for employees whose last names start with „K“ or „Z“. Arrange in order according to salary.
9. Display all the information about the employees hired in 1999.
10. Arrange in order according to salary and display first_name, last_name, salary for all employees.
11. Display in one column the first two characters of the first name concatenated to the email.
12. Display in one column the last_name and the salary. The format must be “King earns 24000 euros”.
13. Display in one column the last_name and the department_id. The format must be “King works in the department 90”.
14. Arranging in descending order according to hire_date all the employees and display first_name, last_name, salary.
15. Display the minimum of salaries for employees having department_id=80 or 50.
16. Using a substitution variable for manager_id, display the first_name, the last_name, and the manager_id for employees having department_id=124 or 149.
17. Using a substitution variable for job_id, display the first_name, the last_name, the department_id, and the job_id for employees having job_id=SA_REP or ST_CLERK.

18. Using a substitution variable for department_id, display the last_name, the department_id, the hire_date and the salary for employees having department_id=80 or 50 and hired after 01.05.1998.
19. Using a group function, display the first name in alphabetical order(use last_name).
20. Display all the information about the employees hired between May 1, 1998 and December 31, 1999.

Exercise B: For all the following questions use EMPLOYEE's table:

1. Display the last_name, the salary and the hire_date for the first person hired of the company.
2. Write a select to return the first_name, the last_name, the salary from employees who earn more than Whalen(last_name).
3. Write a select to return all the information about employees having the same department as Vargas.
4. Display the first_name, the last_name, and the manager_id from employees who earn less than Grant.
5. Display the last_name, the department_id and the salary from employees hired after Davies.
6. Display the first_name, the last_name, and the salary from employees having the same manager_id like Grant.
7. Display first_name, last_name, and the salary from employees who earn less than the average of the salaries for employees hired after Rajs.
8. Display the first_name, the last_name, and the salary for employees who earns more than the average of the salaries for all the employees having department_id=50 or 80.
9. Display the last_name, the hire_date, and the department_id for employees who work in the same department like Rajs and was hired in 1998.
10. Display first_name, last_name, and the salary from employees who earn more than the minimum salaries for employees hired after Davies.
11. Display the last_name, the salary, the job_id and the department_id for employees having the same job_id like Matos who earns less than Grant.
12. Display the first_name, the last_name, and the salary for employees having the same manager like Matos.
13. Display the first_name, the last_name, and the salary for employees having the same department_id like Taylor.
14. Increase the salary for employees hired after Abel by 500 euros and display first_name, last_name, the old salary and the new one.
15. Display the first_name, the last_name, and the salary for employees who earn more than the average salaries for all the employees having manager_id=124 or 149.
16. Display the first_name concatenated to the salary in a new column named "Information" for employees who was hired before Zlotkey.
17. Display the last_name, the job_id, the salary and the manager_id for employees whose last names start with "M" or „R" and having the same department_id like Vargas.
18. Display the last_name in uppercase and the email in lower case in a new column "Information" for employees hired after Abel and who have the same job_id like Matos. The format must be "DAVIES has the email cdavies"

19. Display the average of the salary and round the result to 2 decimal places for employees who working in the same department like Vargas.
20. Display the last_name and the salary for employees who earn more than the average of the salary for employees who working in the same department like Vargas.

Exercise C:

1. Using the locations table, create a SELECT statement to display the street, postal code, and the city in a new column "Address".
2. Using the locations table, create a SELECT statement to display the street, postal code, and the city in a new column "Address" having country_id=US.
3. Using the d_songs table, create a SELECT statement to display the title and the artist in a new column "Song".
4. Using the d_songs table, create a SELECT statement to display the title and the artist in a new column "Song" having type_code=77.
5. Using the d_songs table, create a SELECT statement to display the title and the artist in a new column "Song" having duration>5 min.
6. Using the wf_countries table, create a SELECT statement to display the national holiday and the national_holiday_date in a new column "National_day".
7. Using the wf_countries table, create a SELECT statement to display the national holiday and the national_holiday_date in a new column "National_day" having population>1000000.
8. Display all the information about the jobs.(table jobs)
9. Display all the information about the jobs having job_id="AD_VP"(table jobs).
10. Display all the information about the countries(use table wf_countries).
11. Display all the information about the countries having country_translated_name starting with "I" (use table wf_countries).
12. Display all the information about the countries having region_id > 30(use table wf_countries).
13. Display all the information about the climate(use table wf_countries).
14. Display all the information about Brazil(use table wf_countries).
15. Display the Independence Day for each country(use table wf_countries).
16. Display all the information about the countries having airports(use table wf_countries).
17. Display the street_address and postal_code from locations (table locations).
18. Display all the information from locations having country_id="US"(table locations).
19. Display all the information about the locations having location_id=1700 or location_id=1500(table locations)
20. Display all the information about the jobs (table job_history)
21. Display all the information about the jobs from department_id=80 (table job_history)
22. Display all the information about the jobs having the start_date> 01.01.1998 (table job_history).